Prosecuting Attorney in Arkansas Cases Brings Very Sensational Charge.

(By Associated Press.) LITTLE ROCK, ARK., July 17 .- When the Pulsaki county grand jury reconvened to-day to resume investigations of bribery charges in conection with matters of State legislation, Prosecuting Attorney Rhoton announced to Judge R. J. Lee, of the Pulaski Circuit Court, that he, as State's attorney, was in possession of facts showing that there was an attempt to corupt the grand jury. He did not go into details, but simply added that there were two members of the grand jury whom he would like to have the court excuse. He asked that the record show that they were excused only that they be used as witnesses. Judge Lee granted the request, and new jurors were then summoned and empanelled to take the places of the excused jurors. No further developments followed. of the Pulaski Circuit Court, that he, as

Editor of The Times-Dispatch:

Sir.—In your issue of Sunday, July 16th, referring to my communication entitled

"Richmond and the Primary" you attempt to make the words, "trickery politicians" apply to Mr. Meredith and his assocites by quoting a part of a sentence and quoting that incorrectly.

The words quoted have no application
